To Whom It May Concern

I am currently the Principal at Sri Ramakrishna Dental College and Hospital, under The Tamil Nadu Dr. M.G.R. Medical University and I have been a Professor in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery for the last 13 years. I have known Dr. Preethi Lakshminarayanan since 2011 and I was her professor and thesis advisor for her MDS Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery residency thesis focusing on the analysis of surgical and histopathological margins in oral squamous cell carcinoma.

I am writing to recommend Preethi as an ideal candidate for your Advanced Standing Program. I have directly observed her work for multiple years, and I can state without any hesitation that she is a truly remarkable person. What makes her unique is her determination, empathy toward patients, and her commitment to excellence. Among all the students I have advised over the past 20+ years, Preethi ranks among the very top.

Talking to patients repeatedly about oral cancer and giving negative news is not at all an easy task for a fresh graduate. Many of the patients who come to the hospital are people who have limited access to resources, and an oral cancer diagnosis means that their lives and the livelihood of the entire family is at stake. I knew that Preethi was a positive person, but I was pleasantly surprised that even under difficult circumstances, she was naturally able to create a positive environment. This was reflected in her interactions with every single person around her: patients, peers, and staff. Several patients came back to express their gratitude even after their recovery and remarked on what a good experience they had with Preethi as their doctor, which is a testament to her maturity and emotional intelligence.

Preethi stands apart from other talented students because of her attention to detail and methodical approach to everything she does. From the time the patient entered the hospital, to the time they left the hospital post-operation and follow-up, she took ownership of patient care to a level that significantly exceeded my expectations. On seeing the impact that surgical scars had on patients, she boldly took up a challenging and complex study for her final thesis: analyzing the specimens resected from oral cancer patients and comparing them with the clinical margins assessed before surgery. Microscopic analysis needed to be exhaustive and required the utmost patience and steadiest of hands. I recall that when Preethi started the study, her systematic approach compelled her to double-check everything to prevent errors. Soon, she realized that by investing extra effort in building trust and clearly communicating her needs to the staff, she could facilitate a smooth process. Following this, the study advanced more rapidly. Preethi demonstrates a remarkable ability for continuous improvement, leveraging experiences to enhance her strength and efficiency.

Greetings to the admission committee,

I am pleased to provide a letter of recommendation for Dr. Neha Jogiswaran, who is seeking admission to your esteemed institution's advanced standing program for international students. I taught her Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery in the final year and throughout her time at our institution, she exhibited exceptional academic prowess and dedication to her studies.

Dr. Neha graduated with consistent first class grades and also holds a distinction in her third year university exam putting her as one of the top in class. She also performed extractions under my guidance and attended individual discussions for Basic Anatomy and Local Anaesthesia with me during her final year. Her commitment to excellence was evident in her thorough preparation for coursework and examinations.

Dr. Neha actively engaged in extracurricular activities that enriched her educational experience and broadened her skill set. She willingly participated in community dental outreach programs, where she provided valuable care to under-served populations.

Additionally, I was aware that Dr. Neha was involved in organising projects. In particular, she played an integral role in organising a marathon for Oral Cancer Awareness in 2018, alongside faculty. She has the ability to undertake detailed work and exhibit with perfection and enthusiasm.

Overall, Dr. Neha's time as a student was characterized by her exemplary academic performance, active participation in extracurricular activities, and dedication to patient care. I am confident that she will bring the same level of excellence and commitment to your program and will be a valuable asset to your institution.

Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am writing to wholeheartedly recommend Akshita Asok Kumar for admission to your esteemed postgraduate program at your reputed university. As a mentor at Sri Ramakrishna Dental College and Hospital, I have had the privilege of teaching and mentoring Akshita throughout her academic journey, and I can attest to their exceptional skills, dedication, and passion for the field of dentistry.

Akshita Asok Kumar has consistently demonstrated outstanding academic performance and earning accolades for their exemplary clinical skills and research endeavors. She possess a profound understanding of dental theory and practice, coupled with a strong commitment to professional development and lifelong learning.

What truly sets Akshita Asok Kumar apart is her remarkable interpersonal skills and compassionate approach to patient care. She exhibit a genuine empathy towards their patients and are adept at fostering trusting relationships, ensuring optimal treatment outcomes and patient satisfaction. Furthermore, Akshita has actively engaged in community service initiatives, volunteering their time and expertise to the populations, reflecting their altruistic spirit and commitment to serving others.

Throughout her time at Sri Ramakrishna dental College and Hospital, Akshita has been a valuable asset to our academic community, contributing actively to classroom discussions, collaborative projects, and extracurricular activities. Their leadership qualities, integrity, and professionalism have earned them the respect and admiration of peers and faculty alike.

During the academic period, Akshita had participated in Conferences, Webinars and Dental Camps. She has published two articles in the dental journals.

Apart from academics, she has also showcased her talents in the extracurricular activities such as dancing, singing and so on in the inter- and intra- college competitions.

TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

It is with great enthusiasm that I write this recommendation for Ms. Ashwini Suresh Babu to support her application for admission into your esteemed University. During her time here, she exhibited a strong commitment to her studies, making her an ideal candidate for your Master's programme.

As the principal, I had the pleasure of observing Ms. Ashwini grow both personally and academically. Not only did she demonstrate intellectual curiosity and discipline, but she also actively participated in co-curricular as well as extracurricular activities such as paper presentations, debates, seminars, sports events, performing arts and social volunteering, where she showed excellent teamwork, innovation and leadership abilities.

One aspect that stood out about Ms. Ashwini was her drive to go beyond the classroom in seeking knowledge. She frequently engaged with her professors, initiated discussions on advanced topics, and took the time to help her peers. Her ability to manage time effectively between academic responsibilities and extracurricular speaks to her solid work ethic, dedication, and organizational skills.

In my opinion, Ms. Ashwini possesses all the required skills to pursue the Master's programme at your University. I have known her for more than three years, which gives me an immense scope to judge her personality and scholastic abilities. She has consistently demonstrated the qualities necessary to thrive in higher education and I am sure she will make use of all the available resources to build her career in a way that can benefit her and the society.

To Respected Admissions Committee,

It is my pleasure to send this letter to show my strong support for Dr. Kavitha Rajesh. As Principal of the institute and her former head of the Oral Surgery Department, it was my pleasure to teach Dr. Kavitha Rajesh when she was a student in the BDS program. Without a doubt, she was in the top 3% of students in terms of school attendance and did very well in both clinical and theoretical classes.

Having been a leader for a long time, I could see right away that Dr. Kavitha Rajesh had the qualities of a good leader. During her program, I saw directly how well she organized, got excited about, and spoke on a variety of topics at department events. A lot of her friends looked up to her because she can talk to people, inspire them, and solve problems in a way that helps them do their best. Besides that, it's clear that she wants to make a difference in the community. She is honest, works hard, and thinks critically. She sets high goals for herself all the time and makes sure she meets them. This was something her friends admired and did too.

Dr. Kavitha Rajesh also consistently showed off her clinical skills, high moral standards, and advanced dental knowledge. She was very good at using her hands, which she showed when she did dental work, like pulling out teeth. Also, her professionalism, compassion, and care were always at the greatest level, whether she was giving local anesthesia or just talking with patients. When it came to people, Dr. Kavitha Rajesh got along well with her peers and showed respect to her teachers. She always saw feedback as a chance to get better. Dr. Kavitha Rajesh learned quickly and worked hard, so she could fully understand difficult topics, write very well, and keep herself motivated all the time. I remember that she often asked me more questions, which led to deep conversations with me outside of class. She worked well with others by sharing her unique point of view and building on their skills.

It makes me happy to hear that Dr. Kavitha Rajesh is now continuing her education in the United States, which has a very well-known and respected dentistry education system. I can promise you that she is ready for your program based on how well she is prepared generally. She always went the extra mile to be the best at her job in every way. I'm sure that her natural desire to keep learning, her work experience, and her desire to help others make her a great candidate for your program. I have nothing but good things to say about her.

Thank you very much for your time and attention. I hope that you will let Dr. Kavitha Rajesh join your program. Please get in touch with me if you have any more questions about her ability to make a difference.

TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

It is a proud moment for me to write a recommendation letter for Ms. Keerthana Solainathan. She was my student at Sri Ramakrishna Dental College, where she pursued her Bachelor of Dental Surgery. During the academic year 2016-2018, I taught her batch Oral Surgery. In my personal opinion as a teacher, I find dental students meritorious when they excel in both theoretical knowledge as well as practical application of concepts in patients. I can proudly affirm that Ms. Keerthana stood up to all my expectations as she excelled in both these fields. In my interactions with her class, she would listen to my lectures with appropriate concentration as was evident from her inquisitive questions. When it was time for students to conduct procedures, she worked on completing the curriculum's quota/ Target and soon advanced into the Minor Operation Theatre to perform minor oral surgeries by herself. A star student in my class, she displayed excellent hand skills while performing critical procedures of oral surgery, maintained focus on hand-eye coordination, showed precision in her work and quickly developed expertise in using tools and technology to carry out surgical & non-surgical procedures. She was also one of our college toppers for the batch of 2013 and holds distinctions in multiple subjects.

Keerthana was a bright student who never limited her participation to academics itself, in 2016-17 she volunteered to manage college data using her computer skills, for a report submission to NAAC (National Assessment and Accreditation Council), which is an organization of Government of India. She also served as a point of contact, helping our professors to streamline huge volumes of data, typically including details of academic programs, faculty profiles, financial resources, and institutional policies. She also assisted professors in our Oral Medicine department by taking the role of Assistant Professor and delivered lectures to junior dental students. She also expressed her will to help under-served people with her knowledge and also led many Mobile Dental Camps to remote areas to serve the poor and needy. I even received feedback from the appointed officials that Keerthana performed exceptionally well in her duties as she managed the laborious tasks of addressing minor & major oral health concerns of locals, raising awareness about oral health, providing special care to the geriatric population and showing excellent professional responsibility while dealing with patients.

Keerthana is an all-rounder who actively participates in events and does not shy away from showing her personality and work strengths. She was also one of the members of the editorial committee for our college magazine. I have seen her win athletic awards in our college's annual cultural programs as well as participate in drawing competitions. She along with her batch have won intercollege dental conferences by participating in various extracurricular activities and paper presentations.

I am certain that a student like her will add to the glory of your prestigious institution with her sincere participation in both academic and non-academic events.

It is my great pleasure to recommend Ms. Vijayalakshmi Nambi, Registration No: 541614597, from the 2016 batch of the Bachelor of Dental Surgery program at Sri Ramakrishna Dental College & Hospital, to your esteemed institution. As her professor and Head of the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery during her undergraduate studies, I had the privilege of witnessing her exceptional academic abilities, keen desire for knowledge, and unwavering commitment to excellence.

Vijayalakshmi consistently exhibited a strong grasp of dental concepts and techniques, which was evident in her academic performance and practical skills. Her ability to quickly understand and apply complex ideas set her apart from her peers. She approaches each task with a methodical and thorough mindset, ensuring that she not only meets but often exceeds the expectations set before her.

As a student, Vijayalakshmi was polite, obedient, and highly respectful to both her peers and professors. Her academic record is a testament to her dedication and hard work, consistently achieving high grades and demonstrating a deep understanding of her coursework. Her passion for dentistry is evident in her unwavering commitment to her studies and her eagerness to participate in clinical activities.

Moreover, Vijayalakshmi has showcased her talent and enthusiasm through participation in several extra-curricular activities, earning recognition for her team and our institution. Her involvement in these activities highlights her well-rounded personality and ability to balance academic responsibilities with other interests. She is a kind, confident, and enthusiastic individual who is always willing to lend a helping hand to others.
